

Day 7 Prayers for our Past

Day 8 Prayers for our parents

Days 9-10 Bloodline repentance

Above are the prayer points for each of the remaining days
Feel free to do these days as a 3-day fast as well.

6 am- thanksgiving

I have outlined this in earlier days

Noon- Prayer/worship/praise

3 pm or 6 pm whichever time you would end your fasting for the day.

before you end your fast do the writing assignment and make time for prayer and repentance.

You can spend more time reading over the scriptures praying and repenting, you can pray while you are working and no one will know but these are structured times. Sometimes during a time of fasting, the Lord reveals so much information about things you have done or things people are doing to you... or perhaps things that you need to change It is best not to stop that flow.

Prayers for your past

So before we start talking about your family and friends let's talk about you. Sexual immorality and idolatry! any forms of it in your past or present need to be dismantled and the rightful king needs to be back on his throne in your life!

Masturbation

Fornication

Supporting either of the above

Adultery

putting your children, your man, and anything else above GOD

Idolizing money

KEEP GOING ! i like to write my points out and say the prayer of repentance covenant-breaking prayer in the fasting instructions) over each thing ! it takes a while! but what do you have to lose?

Read the Full chapter of Leviticus 26

I like to read it in the amplified version. Here you will see the list of curses and blessings. My prayer is that by reading this you see how serious this is to God and it becomes serious to you!

Prayers for your parents

Some parents did the best they could and some could care-less. whichever end of the spectrum your childhood was on the goal is that you be reconciled to Christ! If you have the best relationship with your parents and none with God well what's the point? They can't save you from Hell or cause you to enter the gates of Heaven.

I know that is easy to think about when everything is all good, but if you have had a traumatizing upbringing I want you to think about it in the same way! Your parents bought you here but your life is not your own or theirs.

Write out

the pain points you have as it relates to your upbringing and bring them to God during this fast!

For some you may need to repeat this day afewe times until you get directions on what moves you need to make next

- blocking people
- praying for people
- staying away from people

And ultimately are somethings that happened to you back there are keeping you stagnant now!

READ Matthew chapter 10

Prayers for bloodline repentance

Now let us be frank some of us come from crazy families! And some of you are continuing to perpetuate that foolishness even into yourchildren'ss lives! You need to repent on the behalf of your family and disconnect yourself from them and the consequences that await them. Here is a very short list of something and/or indicators that could help you out

- voodoo practices
- ancestral practices
- any involvement in the occult
- sorority or fraternities
- tarot cards.. And anything of the sort
- your mom had a new man in the house each night
- abortions
- early pregnancies
- patterned sicknesses
- patterned marriagelessness
- patterned divorces
- patterned poverty

You can use the covenant-breaking prayer in the fasting manual (its free on the website)
